Machin definitive stamps with security features – a checklist

A listing of stamps by value and type, with details of the Royal Mail products which produced each one, showing the more detailed numbering system we use. Dates of issue or discovery, and dates of printing are shown where known. A cross-reference table of the stamps based on the Stanley Gibbons catalogue is also included. The latest version includes the numbers in Gibbon's Concise 2020. Also includes a table showing which stamps were issued in each year. Postage rates have now been added.

Additions and amendments in this version are highlighted in blue & in previous versions in pink.

In any row, the symbol | indicates that the entry in the previous row applies to the current row.

 § Earliest date reported

Royal Mail bureau ordering code. No guarantee which version would be supplied if more than one exists

Stanley Gibbons (SG) catalogue lists only with or without year code for each different source code

Norvic number unique for each year and some other variants, making future numbering predictable

SG Booklet numbers vary when cover or contents change but not year codes

For booklets, indicates why there was a new version sold by RM's bureau. Dates are first recorded printing date for counter and business sheets, pack dates for booklets.

After May 2014 an order for Code UB333 could be supplied with 2011 2012 2013 or 2014 version.

Introduction

When year codes were discovered in the iridescent 'security' printing on Machin definitives we decided at an early stage that – as customers were asking for the different years – we would need a way to identify the stamps in our stock. A decimal system seemed the most logical.

Thus the 2009 2nd class sheet stamp is number 2911. The same stamp with MA10 year code is 2911.0, and that with year code M11L is 2911.1 and so on. The decimal number is applied according to the year code on the stamp, not the year of issue or discovery. The code for 2020 is 2911.20. In our webshop some stamps are listed twice, both for the year of the code, and the year of issue/discovery.

Sheet stamps and booklet stamps are generally listed separately and we followed that convention in our numbering. The suffix 'B' is added to the Counter Sheet number of the same value for Business Sheets. Suffixes 'S' and 'C' are added to the number for stamps from Booklets of 12, for Booklets of 6 and mixed content booklets respectively.

There are, admittedly, some inconsistencies, but I hope that readers will be able to follow the principles!

New main edition – SG Number changes

In the 2018 edition of their Great Britain Concise catalogue, Stanley Gibbons renumbered most of the U-series stamps – the security-featured stamps listed in this checklist. As a result there were major changes in this list: I can't promise that there are no mistakes or omissions, and will be grateful for notification of any that users find.

In the 2019 edition further changes were made by SG including at least one booklet. This results in a few more changes in this edition of the Checklist. Please let me know of any errors you find!

Sales of Machin Security Definitives

We announced in December that we would stop stocking these stamps with the last 2018 (M18L) version, that is, we will not stock any M19L 2019 printings. We will continue to update this Checklist or catalogue and continue to provide information about new stamps on the blog. For details of other dealers who can supply these stamps, in the UK, the USA, and the Netherlands, please see <https://blog.norphil.co.uk/p/important-notice.html>

Printing and Packing dates.

Printing dates are shown for most Counter Sheet stamps, but only for Business Sheets where we know them. Packing dates are shown for many Retail Booklet packs: these indicate the date on packs containing the stamps shown. This is not a guarantee that dated packs will contain those stamps: packs with the same date have been found, for example, with SBP1 and SBP2 contents, and with different year codes. Missing dates will be added when data is provided.

¶ In the 2018 GB Concise catalogue, Gibbons list this in the Machin section after U3920 & MS3965 as 3966. However in the regular stamp listings it is listed after MS3964 & MS3965 as U3966, so it is actually listed twice.

- the 5p and 50p from the Merchant Navy PSB have the side elliptical perforations near the top of the stamp.

± Postage rates normally increase at the beginning of April, with stamps issued in the last week of March. The date of 27 March 2012 was always intended by Royal Mail to be the date when the Machin and Country definitives for new postage rates were issued. But delays in the regulator approving the increase meant the postponement of the official issue date of the Tariff Change stamps (FDC & Presentation Packs) to 25 April.

Supplies of the previous, gold, stamps were exhausted at PO Supplies Department at Swindon, and many Post Office branches had no supplies of Large stamps (other than the Jubilees) in any format. Consequently some branches put the stamps on sale at least by the dates shown above, and we added images to our blog well before the end of March. PO HQ issued instructions that the stamps were not to be used and that the Large rate should be made up in other ways. But despite Royal Mail's official date, PO HQ then instructed branches to put the stamps on sale on 27 March, and we produced FDCs for that date.

Official FDCs produced by Royal Mail Talents House were dated 25 April and included the new tariff stamps.

Notes

1. LFOS = London Festival of Stamps. Booklet has an advert inside front cover and dark blue and white edge strip similar to mixed (PM series) books.
2. Gibbons booklet number MB8d was not allocated. MB9-10 contain Olympic Definitives.
3. The low values (1p – 20p) were initially issued with security cuts but no iridescent layer.
4. New Tariff 2013. Because De La Rue had moved their plant from Dunstable to Gateshead they were unable to print all the stamps needed for issue on 27 March 2013 so they contracted out to Walsall the printing of the valued stamps – 78p, 88p & £1.88. The Royal Mail Signed For stamps due for issue the same day were printed by De La Rue.

Because of the delays Royal Mail were unable to distribute stamps as quickly as they wished, and the first priority was to supply Post Office branches. As usual, Tallents House FDCs were produced from special multi-value coils (by DLR). Stamps at Post Offices on the day of issue were printed by Walsall. DLR printings were not available in post offices until presentation packs were available on 5 April.

Tallents House advised customers that the stamps and first day covers would not be delivered until 12 April. Single stamps sent to bureau Standing Order customers were generally DLR printings, whilst those who ordered blocks were generally Walsall. Customers who ordered both blocks and singles received both printings! Printings by De La Rue were available a few weeks after the issue date. Because De La Rue had not been able to set up the ink-jet unit on the presses the first printings had no printing date or sheet numbers. Royal Mail's stocklist shows stamps from both printers with the same date of use. (This applied to other values printed during the same period, such as the £1.28 and £2 MA13.)

A formal distribution of the DLR printing was made to standing order customers in August 2013 as a visible difference, although the only visible difference recognised by Royal Mail was the cylinder number.

In conclusion the Walsall printings were available on 27 March 2013 and DLR printings were not available until 5 April. Dual-dated first day covers with 8 stamps cancelled on the relevant dates are probably scarce!

5. The £1.10 yellow-olive and £1.65 grey-olive were reprinted on 25/01/12 with year code M12L (along with the 68p and 76p values). However the two higher values were never put on sale. Images and the story on the blog – tinyurl.com/n76vajz
6. 1st and 2nd class coils with iridescent security layer and ordinary gum (without security slits) [Norvic 2901/2, SG 3001/2] were available from Royal Mail Tallents House with the following product codes:

500 x 2 nd class – DC117	strip of 5 - DC917
1000 x 2 nd class – DC119	strip of 5 – DC919
500 x 1 st class – DC116	strip of 5 – DC916
1000 x 1 st class – DC118	strip of 5 – DC918

7. Royal Mail Product Codes for the 22/03/11 Large booklets with no printers name were originally advised to dealers as UB326 (1st) and UB327 (2nd). On the public Stocklists they were listed as UB325 & UB326 respectively. UB327 was used for the Thomas the Tank Engine mixed booklet.

7a. Booklet of 6 x 1st. In the SG Concise Catalogue booklet number MB8d is noted as 'outside the scope of this catalogue'. I am investigating what this booklet is! Booklets MB9 & MB10 contain Olympic definitives. MB13 contains 1d black stamps, and MB16 contains 1d red stamps.

8. In most years MCIL stamps appeared in a number of booklets. They are listed with the other booklets on page 25.
9. Booklet 12 x 1st, with printer's name removed.

Royal Mail's January 2010 Stocklist has these entries for booklets, in this order:

Copy Change – Printer's name removed 12 x 1 st VC	15.12.09	UB309	£4.68
Olympic & Paralympic Games No 1 6 x 1 st	07.01.10	UB306	£2.34
Copy Change – website address 6 x 1 st VC	26.01.10	UB307	£2.34
Copy Change – Printer's name removed 12 x 1 st VC	26.01.10	UB310	£4.68
Olympic & Paralympic Games No 2 6 x 1 st	25.02.10	UB308	£2.34
London 2010 Festival of Stamps 6 x 1 st + advert	30.03.10	UB311	£2.34

It is clear from this that booklets were numbered in the order that they were planned, and that the date of issue of the 12 x 1st with no printer's name came after others had been issued. But why two entries – UB309 and UB310?

In the April 2010 Stocklist, the second (UB310) was no longer listed, but that was after the booklets had already been sold. In fact UB309 was issued on 15.12.2009 and contained stamps with no year code (SG MF5a). UB310 was issued on 26.01.10 and contains stamps with year code MA10: this is SG MG5b. It seems that there was an error in allocating Royal Mail product codes: as the contents are not regarded by them as different (year codes being ignored) UB310 was redundant and they subsequently used UB309 to sell either booklet.

But that was after the differences had been identified by buyers and 26 January first day covers produced for the MA10 version. This is possibly the only booklet sold by Tallents House which has a specific date of issue but which is not distinguished by Royal Mail from the previous booklet.

10. Booklet Product Codes UB344-350, 354 and 377 were not used by Royal Mail.
11. The planned date of issue for the entire range of stamps with Security features was 17 February 2009 but not all the stamps could be printed in time. The coils were dropped from the plan, and the booklets and business sheets were given a first day of philatelic availability of 31 March. However the first Designs Classics booklet was issued on 10 March with code MCIL, and the 1st x 6 booklet was available at some retail outlets on 9 March. Both 1st and 2nd class (small) business sheets were distributed by Royal Mail Direct by 13 March, but philatelic distribution (even to dealers) was later.
12. 1st class M12L booklet of 12. The last M11L gold booklet of 12 was issued 25 October 2011 with the cover showing the FSC logo. With the Diamond Jubilee booklet to be issued on 6 February 2012 one might think that there would be no need for a further printing of the gold. It's possible that the M12L version was the conclusion of the 2011 contract, but printed in 2012 and attracting the M12L year code. Whatever the cause, the M12L booklets appeared in retail outlets 2 months after the Jubilee booklets were issued, and were not available from Royal Mail Tallents House.
13. 2011 Coils. Royal Mail inadvertently released the information that the 2nd & 1st class SA coils of 10,000 had been printed, but none has ever been found.
14. Long to Reign Over Us. Miniature sheets and counter sheets were distributed to Post Office branches in mid-August 2015. While there may have been a sale-date on/with the miniature sheet packaging there was apparently no indication with the counter sheets of the first day of sale. Inevitably at least one branch (on the grounds that their stocks of red stamps were exhausted) placed the counter sheet stamps on sale on or before 18th August. At the time of writing we have no reports of early release of the miniature sheets, nor of delivery of the booklets.
- On these stamps the Source Code coincides with the security slit to the right. It is difficult to distinguish between the sources by the code alone. However, the counter sheet stamps have the conventional white backing paper, whilst the booklet stamps have thin card backing which is purple on the reverse ('S' book) or red on the reverse (mixed content 'C' books).
- The 'C' stamps from mixed booklets always have a rouletted left or right edge. The 'S' stamps from booklets of 6 may have a rouletted left edge, but any stamps with no rouletted edge must be from 'S' booklets.

The miniature sheet Machin definitive is printed in gravure but the larger stamps are printed in intaglio ('recess' like banknotes). Although credited to International Security Printers this work was actual done by Fabrica Nacional de Moneda y Timbre in Madrid, Spain, using a Goebel press for the intaglio and Giave for the gravure. The perforating and finishing (cutting to size) was done by Cartor in France. This of course means another new printer for Machin definitives. The engraver was Chris Matthews, who has worked for Bradbury-Wilkinson, Harrisons, and De La Rue. He engraved the 1988 Castle high values and the Stamp World 90 Penny Black miniature sheet.

15. Some business sheet stamps exist with and without gaps in the U-shaped security cuts. I've only listed the versions that we had in stock as reliable information was not always available, and the size of some gaps varied so much as to be almost invisible unless the stamp was held up to a strong light. I'll be happy to add details if provided with clear images. Printing dates from headers would also be useful.

16. Security Backing Paper (SBP1). In June 2014 Britain's Stamp Magazine reported that "Self-adhesive stamps are to be printed with a security inscription on the entire backing paper from next year to deter forgers. This will include special stamps as well as definitives in counter sheets, booklets, business sheets and coils."

In fact the new paper was not used until the autumn of 2015, the stamps first appearing in early 2016. First was the 2nd class business sheet, followed by several booklets, all printed by Walsall. At the time of writing no counter sheets by De La Rue have been reported with what we are referring to as Security Backing Paper (or SBP). Entries in the checklist are marked 'SBP1' to distinguish them from those without where both types exist. All 2016 booklets and business sheets have security backing paper.

Stamp printing expert Glenn Morgan, countering suggestions that this was just a move to get more money from collectors wrote:

"This feature is not there for Joe Public to spot, but it is an essential part of security when bringing a case to court by the Royal Mail investigators .... [Eventually] all Machin stamps [will] have the new SBP [and] it will give the juror the ability to know "beyond all reasonable doubt" that any dubious stamps that form part of the case have to be forgeries, as they will not bear correctly printed features. A conviction will follow."

16a. SBP2. In May 2016 Royal Mail said that there was a delay in producing counter sheet stamps with Security Backing Paper because of the need for printing between the paper and the glossy substrate. At the same time, and apparently unconnected, Royal Mail also announced that, so that the paper may be used in any direction (especially useful if there are part-reels to be used) the security printing will be changed so that alternate pairs of lines of text will be inverted. The first appearance of stamps on the new backing paper was the 2nd class business sheet printed on 14/12/2016 (with M16L year code). Around the same time Stamp Magazine reported that the 1st class counter sheet (apparently in deep scarlet) not only had security printing but it was the new type. This was a printing reported to be 09/12/2016, again with year code M16L. In the listings we are referring to this new type as SBP2, but we do not intend to list every instance of inverted or upright SBP2.

The 1st class deep scarlet counter sheet M16L on SBP2 was reported in Stamp Magazine in March 2017, with a printing date of 09/12/16. It was expected that this would be sent to the PO Supplies Depot in Swindon for distribution. However, it seems that this first trial by De la Rue on the new paper has not yet been distributed to the retail PO network. It may be a short run stacked below later printings and it may well make an appearance. Because it is known to exist we have allocated a catalogue number although it has not been available yet.

Update: In October 2017, copies were found in a limited number of post offices printed on 12/12/16, the Monday after the reported printing.

Update: January 2018 supplies of the same date appeared in more post office branches, suggesting that they had been stored at Swindon below the M17L stamps; the 09/12/16 printing has not been found.

Update October 2018: remaining supplies of SBP1 booklet backing paper have been used for some printings of the 6 x 1st M18L Padlock booklet, part of the printing of the Harry Potter mixed booklet PM64, and the 12x2nd which appeared in early 2019 also coded M18L. We have listed these.

17. Stanley Gibbons Concise catalogue has sub-numbers for booklets with the Printer's imprint removed, and for the addition of the FSC logo, but not for the change of telephone numbers from 0845 to 0345. This change is noted in footnotes only. New whole numbers were allocated when security printing was added to the backing paper inside the booklets.

18. In 2018 the contract for printing counter sheet stamps was switched from De La Rue to ISP Walsall, which mean that they were printing all definitives. Some printings had phosphor which glowed blue, some were blue with a hint of yellow, and others were yellow. Values which started with yellow on the first printing, and for which the second printing were blue, were found to have yellow fluorescence to the transparent iridescent security ink, which produced two distinct stamps, at least when viewed with the short-wave ultra-violet light.

Singularly, at the time of writing, while both printings of the £1.45 value had blue phosphor, the second printing showed yellow fluorescence to the dove-grey ink, and the stamps exhibited quite different characteristics to the other values. A subsequent printing of the £1.45 has both grey ink and iridescent ink fluorescing yellow.

Close examination of booklets revealed that mixed booklets from the start of the year (PM59 RAF) to PM61 (Dad's Army) had blue phosphor, but PM62 (Hampton Court) onwards showed yellow fluorescence to the transparent iridescent printing. Other booklets have also been reported with more than one type of phosphor but we have not seen these.

19. Royal Mail produced, in conjunction with the Royal Mint, a commemorative £5 coin cover marking the 95th Birthday of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II. The cover is dated 21 April 2021. The cover cost £19.99.

The cover has a pane of stamps which appears to be from a prestige stamp book pane but it is not. There is no prestige book. From Royal Mail's perspective, there were no new stamps, so this was not made available mint for distribution to collectors. A spokesman for Royal Mail said that they were mindful of complaints by both collectors and cover producers that there were too many stamps to collect/produce FDCs for and this cover was aimed squarely at the 'Royal memorabilia' market rather than the philatelic market.

Although these were not available mint, they were be made available for dealers to put on covers and have cancelled. Thus these are only available used, either in a pane or singly, soaked from covers. They exist with a variety of special postmarks. Number Norvic 3702.21.

± This is listed by SG as bright scarlet (the new colour we refer to as deep scarlet) but is closer to the original vermilion than the new darker Royal Mail Red colour. In the 2018 GB Concise catalogue, this has been corrected and the gravure stamp is listed as vermilion (ie the original colour of the 1st class stamps).

¶ In the 2018 GB Concise catalogue, Gibbons list this in the Machin section after U3920 & MS3965 as 3966. However in the regular stamp listings it is listed after MS3964 & MS3965 as U3966, so it is actually listed twice.

* the 5p and 50p from the Merchant Navy PSB have the side elliptical perforations near the top of the stamp.

*FNMT = Fábrica Nacional de Moneda y Timbre, the Spanish Royal Mint.

FDC Status

1. Official – Royal Mail identified as a new issue and produced FDCs
2. Formal – Royal Mail identified as a new issue but did not produce FDC for individual stamps, eg mixed booklets, Prestige Books. FDA=First Day of Philatelic Availability: this occurs when an existing stamp is reprinted producing a change, but not one which Royal Mail regard as a new stamp.
3. Unofficial – no official issue date but first day of availability can be positively stated.

§§ - Apart from the new backing paper these stamps are the same as those issued on 21 March, so FDCs are not appropriate. The other stamps listed on 7 April are all new for 2017.

±± - The reprinted £2.55 stamp was available at Post Office branches on 23 December (so producing Unofficially dated FDCs), but the first day of issue postmark could be applied to only the three new values (Official); the earliest date that Royal Mail would apply to the new £2.55 stamp was 1 January 2021, so Formal.

YEAR BY YEAR SUMMARY

In response to a number of requests I have compiled this summary of which stamps were produced with which year dates. Note that this does not mean that they were issued or found in the stated year. Late printings are frequently not found until the following year, especially in January-issued PSBs, but in the early years some stamps were printed before the end of the year before their date. (See 2011 2nd & 1st class counter & business sheets printed in November 2010 and found in January 2011.)

O means stamp does exist; - means it does not.

Differences in security backing paper are not listed here.

Stamps for which only one version exists are not included in the tables but mentioned below the table.

Postage Rates – for collectors of Postal History

To assist collectors of postal history in establishing whether the correct postage has been paid on a letter or packet, it is necessary to know the value equivalent of NVI stamps. For example, a June 2017 2nd class large letter costing 76p, bearing a 2nd class and 20p stamps is correctly paid. The same rate could be paid by a 1st class and 11p in extra stamps.
